ACDS SCHOOLS AND TRAINING

Newsletter 2023-1

The ACDS Schools and Training (S & T) has had several enquiries about specific CDE Rules and it is appropriate to share the response with all Cones Judges and Technical Delegates.

DRIVING THROUGH OXERS

When a competitor is on course during the cones competition, a competitor may drive sideways through an oxer (in the example shown in Figure 1 above, per the green or brown dotted lines) without penalty.

In this scenario, if, whilst driving through the oxer following the green or brown dotted line, the competitor knocks a ball off the cone, the penalty is 3 penalties for a ball down.

If this cones obstacle was say cone obstacle 20 (rather than 2) and you were on your way from cone 6 to drive cone 7, then it would be (i) ring the bell and stop the clock;) rebuild the obstacle; and (iii) ring the bell and start the clock when the competitor reaches the next obstacle on course to continue their round. Penalty would be 3 for the ball down and 10 seconds added to the time. Refer Rule 975.3.4.

Circles on a Cones Course

There is no penalty for a competitor who circles on the cones course (with one proviso below). If a competitor turns the wrong way as they complete an obstacle or circle as they are lost on course, there is no penalty other than time on course.

The one proviso is if the horse shies away from the obstacle at the last minute without hitting any part of the obstacle (this is considered to be Disobedience) and is penalised accordingly. Refer Rule 975.7.1 a).

Judging a Multiple

The following are several scenarios with comments on judging for your information.

artiolo 070.7.7.c

In the scenario shown in Figure 3 above, the competitor runs out at C but does not knock any balls down.

Athlete Saluting the Cones Judge

Rule 943.2.7 states "in Dressage (as part of the test) and Cones, Athletes will be required to salute the Jury, unless time or layout of the Course prevents it". For Cones, the Rule gives no guidance to as to how the Judge receives the salute.

For guidance, there is no requirement for the Judge to require the Athlete to come close to the Judge to salute, nor to stop and put grooms down if the Athlete has a groom on the carriage.

It is quire acceptable (and these days, the norm) for the Athlete to salute from a distance. There is also no requirement for the Athlete to stop to salute – the competitor can salute on the move.

Cones Judges Asking Questions of the Athlete Before the Athlete Commences the Round.

As way of further guidance, in general, there is no need for the Judge to speak to the Athlete when the Athlete enters the arena. There is no Rule that gives guidance on this subject.

Historically there may have been Judges that did ask questions of the Athlete. However, consider what the judge would do if they asked the Athlete "have you walked the course" and the Athlete says "no". What do you do? It is the responsibility of the Athlete to be ready to drive the cones round, not the responsibility of the Judge to make sure the Athlete is ready.

Accordingly, as way of guidance, the Judge should not speak to the Athlete other than to acknowledge the salute (which is done by saluting back).
